BOOKS, PERIODICALS AND UNPUBLISHED MATERIAL

KENNEDY/SOUTH PARK, FALL RIVER, MASS.

A. Books

Appleton's Annual Cyclopaedia and Register of Important Events of the Year 1895. S.v. "Vaux, Calvert." [HCL]

Contemporary obituary, citing Vaux for his many contributions to park design, with little reference to his architecture.

[Ball, Phinehas]. Report of the Superintendent of Streets on the Construction of Sewers, 1878. Fall River: Almy, Milne & Co., 1878. [BPL, FRPL]

Assessment by a Worcester consultant of the sewer system developed by the city in response to need and to his earlier recommendations. Records the various sewers laid in the streets around South Park.

Ball, Phinehas. Report on a System of Sewerage for the City of Fall River. Fall River: Almy, Milne & Co., 1876. [BPL, FRPL]

Plan of a Worcester consultant for a sewer system at a critical period of population expansion in the city. Recommended an outlet at the South Park ravine, draining into the Bay.

[Baxter, C.H.]. History of the Fall River Strike: Being a Full Report of the Labor Troubles from 1873 to April 5, 1875; by a Workingman. Revised and corrected by John Smith. Fall River: Clark & Co., 1875. [FRPL]

Report of the labor troubles and strikes, 1873-5, from the workers' viewpoint, citing the hardships and poor living conditions. Good for "other" perspective on industrial development. No mention of the park.

A. Books (Cont'd.)

Bender, Thomas. Toward an Urban Vision: Ideas and Institutions in Nineteenth Century America. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 1982. [BPL, HCL]

Thoughtful exploration of the intellectual, cultural and social responses to the development of the 19th century urban and industrial experience, using Lowell as a case study, and the ideology and works of Olmsted Sr. as examples of a contemporary reformer's responses to the growing metropolitan ills.

Beveridge, Charles E. and David Schuyler, eds. The Papers of Frederick Law Olmsted. Vol. 3: Creating Central Park, 1857-1861. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 1983. [FLL]

Invaluable, richly annotated anthology of Olmsted documents pertaining to the design, early implementation and administration of Central Park, revealing the interplay of people, politics and design issues in this formative period for Olmsted. Excellent introductory essay and biographical sketches. Of especial significance is the pictorial essay which provides concrete images to enrich the words.

Blodgett, Geoffrey. The Gentle Reformers: Massachusetts Democrats in the Cleveland Era. Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1966. [HCL]

Fascinating examination of men and political movements in a period of progress with high hopes of curing the ills of the industrial city. Notes the efforts of Fall River State Senator Robert Howard in legislating reform of factory conditions.

Borden, Alanson W., ed. Our County and Its People: A Descriptive and Biographical Record of Bristol County, Massachusetts. Boston: Boston History Company, 1899. [BPL, FRPL, HCL]

Useful county history, with biographies stressing development of public improvements. Several references to land acquisition but only passing note of South Park (unnamed in account).

Boss, Judith A. Fall River: A Pictorial History. Norfolk, Va.: Donning Company, 1982. [FRPL]

Interesting history through pictorial vignettes. Views of people at work; architecture and areas of the city before destruction or new development. Some views of Kennedy Park but little discussion about the role of open space.

Boyer, Paul. Urban Masses and Moral Order in America, 1820-1920. Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1978. [HCL]

Comprehensive study of problems in newly industrialized cities viewed against the diverse reform movements and ideologies which emerged between the Jacksonian era and the Progressives. Thoughtful examination of Olmsted's philosophical approach to park design and planning as elements of social control to shape a moral order.

Brayton, Alice. Life on the Stream. 2 volumes. Newport, R.I.: Wikenson Press, 1962. [FRPL]

Chatty recounting of incidents in Fall River history, by one of the city's "grande dames". Notes Avery murder trial and includes woodcut of stackyard located on the Durfee farm, later to become South Park.

Chadwick, George F. The Park and the Town. New York: Frederick A. Praeger, 1966. [FLL]

Comprehensive early study of the origins and development of the 19th century public park, focussed primarily on British examples but with chapters examining American and European designs, cross-influences and current trends.

Cranz, Galen. The Politics of Park Design: A History of Urban Parks in America. Cambridge: M.I.T. Press, 1982. [FLL]

Examination of the development of American urban parks, using New York, Chicago and San Francisco as case studies to explore the varied influences which shaped the park movement and continues to shape cities.

Cumblér, John T. Working Class Community in Industrial America: Work, Leisure and Struggle in Two Industrial Cities, 1880-1930. Westport, Ct.: Greenwood Press, 1979. [BPL, HCL]

Interesting analysis of the influential factors in the development of working class unity, comparing the Lynn shoe industry and the Fall River textile mills. Good treatment of the ethnic and social concerns of the community, but no mention of the value and types of recreation. Therefore, the park only seen as background for labor rallies.

Dirr, Michael A. Manual of Woody Landscape Plants. Champaign, Ill.: Stipes Publishing Co., 1977. [FLL]

Excellent reference book for shrubs, vines and trees with detailed identification clues and cultural requirements.

Earl, Henry Hilliard. A Centennial History of Fall River, Mass.. New York: Atlantic Publishing and Engraving Co., 1877. [BPL, FRPL, HCL, SHL]

"Establishment" history of Fall River with illustrations, including the colored lithograph of the Olmsted-Vaux 1871 plan for South Park which preserved this work (other planning documents of this period were destroyed in City Hall fire). Views the parks as a humanitarian and aesthetic "gift" from the entrepreneurs to their workers. History contains corporate annals of city as well as program from centennial celebration, recording special events in the park.

Fall River Historical Society, Fall River, Mass. Proceedings of the Society from its Organization in 1921 to August 1926. Fall River, Mass.: The Society, 1927. [FRHS, FRPL, HCL]

Reports by members of the Society on varied topics of local history. In addition to published volume, the FRHS and FRPL have typewritten manuscripts of other reports. Interesting, though of varied documentation and accuracy.

Fein, Albert, ed. Landscape into Cityscape: Frederick Law Olmsted's Plans for a Greater New York City. Ithaca: Cornell University Press, 1968. [FLL]

Well-selected excerpts from reports and other writings of Olmsted, Sr. Although focussed on recommendations for the boroughs of New York, the philosophical approach and practical solutions relate to Olmsted planning in other cities at later dates. Introductory essays informative.

Fenner, Henry Milne, ed. History of Fall River. New York: F.T. Smiley Publishing Company, 1906. [BPL, FRPL]

Official city history recording civic development since Earl's 1877 volume. Emphasis on the advantages of city's future prospects, the park system included as an important feature. Brief mention of the improvement of South Park after 1902.

Fenner, Henry Milne. History of Fall River, Massachusetts. Fall River, Mass.: Fall River Merchants Association, 1911. [BPL, FRPL, SHL]

Shortened "official" history compiled to celebrate the Cotton Centennial. Stresses the development of city services, noting the beginnings of the park system. No mention made of improvements to date (1911).

Francis, James R. Forest Hills Gardens. Fall River, Mass.: Fiske & Munroe, [1881-3?] [FRPL]

Advertising pamphlet for early "resort" ground near Fall River. Woodcuts depict activities: billiards, bowling, skating, dancing in a sylvan setting.

Howe, George. "The Minister and the Mill Girl," in A Sense of History: The Best Writing from the Pages of "American Heritage". New York: American Heritage, 1985. [BPL]

Brief non-scholarly rendering of the sensational murder and trial which scandalized and titillated readers far beyond Fall River's boundaries. Very thin treatment of background conditions.

Hurd, Duane Hamilton, ed. History of Bristol County, Massachusetts with Biographical Sketches of its Pioneers and Prominent Men. Philadelphia: J.W. Lewis & Co., 1883. [HCL]

Section on Fall River stresses history of mills, churches and, briefly, the city history. No mention of parks. Good portraits and biographical sketches of some of the leaders, such as Crawford Lindsey.

Hutt, Frank Walcott, ed. A History of Bristol County, Massachusetts. Vol. 1. New York: Lewis Historical Publishing Company, Inc., 1924. [FRPL, HCL]

Yet another history with emphasis upon the development of civic and corporate institutions. The parks are treated as the "poetry of this municipality" (p. 400) with some updated information.

Levee, Arleyn and Joanne Turnbull, "South Park," in Olmsted in Massachusetts: The Public Legacy. ed. Eleanor M. McPeck, Keith Morgan and Cynthia Zaitzevsky. Brookline, Mass.: Massachusetts Association for Olmsted Parks, 1983, pp. 30-33.

Brief study analyzing the history, development and present condition of the park. Part of a pilot landscape inventory project for Massachusetts.

Lincoln, Jonathan Thayer. The City of the Dinner Pail. New York: Arno Press, 1909. [BPL, FRPL, HCL, SHL]

Collection of essays reflecting an upper class, social Darwinist, romantically optimistic view of the social and labor conditions of late 19th century Fall River. No specific mention of the parks in his discussions of leisure. Good for background context.

McLaughlin, Charles Capen and Charles E. Beveridge, eds. The Papers of Frederick Law Olmsted. Vol. 1: The Formative Years, 1822-1852. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 1977. [FLL]

Well-annotated collection of Olmsted's early letters (1840-1852) to friends and family reveals his conversational prose and keen observation. Scholarly, informative introductory essay provides biographical context for Olmsted's life while biographical directory gives interesting data on significant friends and family members.

Millman, Amy. Historic Resource Study: Frederick Law Olmsted National Historic Site. Boston: Division of Planning and Design, North Atlantic Regional Office, National Park Service, 1982.

Study providing basic data concerning the Olmsted home and office in Brookline. Useful for some office procedures, but limited in scope.

The National Cyclopaedia of American Biography. Vol. 9 (1907). S.v. "Vaux, Calvert." [HCL]

Biographical sketch emphasizing Vaux's artistic abilities and integrity in protecting his designs, particularly with regard to Central Park.

----- Vol. 11 (1909). S.v. "Borden, Matthew C.D." [HCL]

Biographical sketch of one of Fall River's most notable industrialists, stressing Borden's entrepreneurial acumen which blunted the impact of 'The Panic of 1893' on the Fall River textile industry.

Newton, Norman T. Design on the Land: The Development of Landscape Architecture. Cambridge: Harvard University Press, Belknap Press, 1971.

Extensive history of landscape design, from the Ancients to the Conservation Movement; invaluable resource to provide context for the work of the Olmsted firm in Fall River and elsewhere. Chronicles the development of the landscape profession.

Olmsted, Frederick Law. A Consideration of the Justifying Value of a Public Park. Boston: Tolman & White, 1881.

Olmsted's somewhat prolix commentary, prepared for the American Social Science Association, on the slow development of public opinion to understand the nature and purpose of a public park.

A. Books (Cont'd.)

[_____]. "Mr. Olmstead's [sic] Report."
In Preliminary Report Respecting a Public Park in Buffalo and a Copy of the Act of the Legislature
Authorizing Its Establishment, pp. 11-28. Buffalo:
Matthews & Warren, 1869. [FLL]

Proposal by Olmsted & Vaux for a comprehensive system of park and parkways for Buffalo, setting forth design rationale for such a system.

[_____]. "Park." In New American
Cyclopaedia, pp. 768-75. George Ripley and Charles A.
Dana, eds. New York: D. Appleton & Co., 1861. [BPL]

Olmsted's assessment of public recreation grounds in Britain and on the continent compared to the still relatively undeveloped American examples of this period.

[_____]. "Park." In New American
Cyclopaedia, pp. 95-108. George Ripley and Charles A.
Dana, eds. New York: Palestine Printing, 1875. [BPL]

An updated version of the previous work, with greater emphasis upon an evaluation of design elements needed for the best effects. More extensive commentary upon American parks reflective of the advancement of the landscape art in this country.

----- . Public Parks and the Enlargement of Towns. Cambridge: Riverside Press, 1870: reprint ed.,
New York: Arno Press, 1970. [FLL]

"A paper prepared as a contribution to the popular discussion of the requirements of Boston in respect to a public park..." (p. 1 footnote). Olmsted's musings upon those elements which make any city civilized, with particular emphasis upon the green spaces where recreation and communication give life and meaning to urban conglomerations.

[_____]. Walks and Talks of an American
Farmer in England. Columbus, Ohio: Joseph H. Riley
& Co., 1859. [FLL]

Olmsted's perceptive observations on the English countryside, living conditions, people and their mores, made during his 1850 walking trip. Significant for his impression of the varied landscapes, particularly Birkenhead Park in Liverpool.

[Olmsted, Frederick Law and Calvert Vaux]. General Plan for the Improvement of Morningside Park. New York: Evening Post Job Printing Office, 1887. [FLL]

A second design report for this park, marking a renewed collaboration between Olmsted & Vaux. M.C.D. Borden, the Fall River industrialist, is the president of the New York Park Commission to whom this report is addressed. Design recommendations for a difficult topographic site analogous to the Fall River park.

Olmsted, Frederick Law Jr. and Theodore Kimball, eds. Frederick Law Olmsted, Landscape Architect, 1822-1903 (Forty Years of Landscape Architecture: Being the Professional Papers of Frederick Law Olmsted, Senior). 2 vols. New York: G.P. Putnam & Sons, 1922, 1928. [FLL]

The biographical notes of Volume I provide a good contextural reference; however, the excerpts from some of Olmsted's early writings are limited. Volume II presents professional writings concerning Central Park, enlivened by FLO, Jr.'s commentary. Useful topical organization of material.

[Olmsted, John C.]. Plan of Recreation Grounds for the City of Pawtucket: Report of F.L. and J.C. Olmsted, Landscape Architects. Boston: Press of T.R. Marvin & Son, 1888. [FLL]

Design recommendations for a nearby community. Stresses importance of planning for preservation of scenery and for recreation, especially for a city on the water.

[Olmsted, John C.]. Report on Proposed Park System for the City of Dayton, Ohio. Olmsted Brothers. Brookline, Mass., 1911. [FLL]

Report for an industrial city comparable to Fall River in population, though smaller in acreage. Sets forth the hierarchy of open spaces which the Olmsted firm recommended for an adequate park system for a city, stressing parkways as well as parks.

Peck, Frederick M. and Henry H. Earl. Fall River and Its Industries. Fall River: Benjamin Earl & Son, 1877. [BPL, FRPL, SHL]

Same as Earl's Centennial History of Fall River with the substitution of genealogical information in the last fifty pages, instead of "Corporate Annals." Also contains colored lithograph of Olmsted-Vaux 1871 plan.

Phillips, Arthur Sherman. The Phillips History of Fall River. 3 volumes. Fall River, Mass.: Dover Press, 1944, 1945, 1946. [FRHS, FRPL, HCL]

Best of the Fall River histories. Most thorough, well documented and illustrated, particularly with maps. Volume I stresses early land settlement, with genealogical information. Volume II provides histories of public and private institutions, including a brief notation about the parks under "Social Welfare Agencies and Charities." Volume III gives the history of municipal development and improvements, including some local lore such as the 1831 Cornell murder on land to be a future park.

Roper, Laura Wood. FLO: A Biography of Frederick Law Olmsted. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 1973. [FLL]

Excellent comprehensive biography of Olmsted, weaving together, with flowing prose, the events and people, the philosophical development and design experience of this complex, talented man, all set against the changing contexts of the 19th century.

Rosebrock, Ellen Fletcher. Historic Fall River. Natick, Massachusetts: The Preservation Partnership, 1978. [FRPL]

Inventory and analysis of architectural styles throughout Fall River. Useful illustrated guide through the districts of the city with a rich visual history. Kennedy Park is examined as a valuable open space within the context of its surrounding neighborhood.

Shurtleff [Shurcliff], Arthur A. Report of the Planning Board, Fall River, Mass.. Boston: The Pinkham Press, 1922. [FLL, SHL]

Thorough, articulate analysis of Fall River in terms of its deficiencies and attributes as an early 20th century city. Excellent maps, photographs to illustrate proposals. Recommendations regarding planning for streets, civic center, zoning, parks and playgrounds among others, still extremely timely. Considers parks "among the finest in the state."

Smith, Thomas Russell. The Cotton Textile Industry of Fall River, Massachusetts: A Study of Industrial Localization. New York: King's Crown Press, 1944. [FRPL, FLL]

Study by a geographer, examining the influence of geographic factors on the development and decline of the Fall River textile industry, noting particularly the climatic and locational advantages.

Sutton, S.B. ed. Civilizing American Cities: A Selection of Frederick Law Olmsted's Writings on City Landscapes. Cambridge: M.I.T. Press, 1971. [FLL, HCL, BPL]

Thoughtful anthology of Olmsted, Sr.'s writings compiled around the theme of his city planning; unfortunately, some of the documents have been edited, thereby limiting their scope.

Thomas, Joseph L. "Lewis Hine: Portrait of Two Cities - Fall River and New Bedford." In Joseph Thomas and Donna Huse, Spinner. Vol. III: People and Culture in Southeastern Massachusetts. Reynolds-DeWalt Printing Co., Inc., 1984. [FRPL]

Historical essay on the photographs of Lewis Hine for the National Child Labor Committee in southeastern Massachusetts. Poignant images of young factory workers in Fall River, some from the American Linen Company which abutted the Park. Important aspects of the social context.

Williams, Catherine R. Fall River, An Authentic Narrative. n.p. 1833. [AA, FRPL]

Non-objective recounting of the murder, in defense of the victim's innocence and virtue.

Wright, Carroll D. Fall River, Lowell and Lawrence. Boston: Rand, Avery & Co., 1882. [AA]

Comparison of the workers' situation in these three textile centers. Fall River generally cited for harsh working conditions, abusive pay practices and squalid, crowded tenements, emphasizing the need for restful open space. Part of larger document (see below).

[Wright, Carroll D.]. Thirteenth Annual Report of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor. Boston: Rand, Avery & Co., 1882. [SHL]

Exhaustive compilation of data concerning ethnic backgrounds, working and living conditions of mill operatives; contains lengthy section, published separately (see above), comparing workers' situations in Fall River, Lowell and Lawrence.

Zaitzevsky, Cynthia. Frederick Law Olmsted and the Boston Park System. Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1982. [FLL]

Thorough, scholarly study of the design development of Boston's park system by Olmsted and his firm, emphasizing the comprehensive multi-dimensional aspects of his planning. Excellent graphic material enriches the lucid prose.

B. Periodicals

"Andrew Jackson Downing." Park International 1 (July 1920): 43-48. [FLL]

Tribute to Downing for his numerous contributions to garden art and literature in his short but productive life.

B. Periodicals (Cont'd.)

Barnum, Gertrude. "The Story of a Fall River Mill Girl." The Independent, 2 February, 1905, pp. 241-43. [HCL]

Personal account of the hard working and living conditions for a young mill operative.

[Bellows, H.W.]. "Cities and Parks, with Special Reference to the New York Central Park." Atlantic Monthly, April 1861, pp. 416-29. [HCL]

Somewhat verbose but interesting observations on the problems of crowded cities and the beneficial effects of a park such as Central Park, made at an early date in park development. Influential, no doubt, even in the hinterlands of Fall River.

Beveridge, Charles E. "Frederick Law Olmsted's Theory of Landscape Design." Nineteenth Century 3 (Summer 1977): 38-43. [HCL]

Thoughtful exploration of the influences which molded Olmsted's aesthetic philosophy and thus his landscape style.

[Downing, A.J.]. "A Talk About Public Parks and Gardens." The Horticulturalist 3 (October 1848): 155-56. [FLL]

Brief assessment of the social and cultural significance of parks in Europe compared with the need for similar institutions in America.

"Editor's Easy Chair." Harpers New Monthly Magazine, June 1855, pp. 123-32. [HCL]

Argument for parks. Americans are not necessarily so rowdy that they cannot be taught to respect a park.

"Fall River Conflagration May Aid City Plan." The American City, March 1928, p. 88. [HCL]

Report on the fire of February 2, 1928 which gutted downtown area. Note that City Planning Board at work to rebuild.

B. Periodicals (Cont'd.)

Hale, William Bayard. "Impotence of Churches in a Manufacturing Town." The Forum, November 1894, pp. 288-300. [HCL]

Sharp criticism of the lack of unity among religious and civic leaders in addressing the city's problems, particularly the workers' conditions.

Hall, Mrs. Herman J. "Park Inconsistencies." American Park and Outdoor Art Association 7:4 (July 1903): 19. [FLL]

Remarks by the retiring president of The Women's Auxilary of the APOAA, regarding the placement of "effigies" and zoos in parks. Prefers the "inspiration of trees."

Lyman, Payson Williston. "Fall River, Massachusetts." New England Magazine, May 1901, pp. 291-312. [BPL]

Short historical study of Fall River, stressing its municipal, industrial and institutional advantages. Notes the city acquisition of shoreline along the Watuppa and potential for park development here.

Pray, James Sturgis. "John C. Olmsted: A Minute on His Life and Service." Landscape Architecture 12 (April 1922): 129-35. [FLL]

Most complete obituary of John C. Olmsted, written by one of his colleagues.

Robbins, Mary Caroline. "The Art of Public Improvement." The Atlantic Monthly, December 1896, pp. 742-51. [BPL, HCL]

Discussion of the "Art of Public Improvement" as the expression of an American art form. Great praise for F.L. Olmsted as pioneer in development of taste. Sees need for education to ensure care of more local public spaces and preservation of national reservations.

Robbins, Mary Caroline. "Park-Making as a National Art." The Atlantic Monthly, January 1897, pp. 86-98. [BPL, HCL]

B. Periodicals (Cont'd.)

Outline of park development in major cities, emphasizing the educative influences of park scenery. A disciple of Olmsted, she cautions on the need to maintain park space once purchased.

Robinson, William. "Fall River, A Dying Industry." New Republic, June 4, 1924, pp. 38-40. [HCL]

Castigation of the mill owners for their short-sighted lack of planning, thereby allowing a vibrant industry to die, leaving thousands unemployed and a city in misery.

Sherwood, Herbert F. "Forward Steps." The American City, July 1928, pp. 140-41.

Report from the Manager of the Chamber of Commerce on plans to replan and rebuild the city after its disastrous fire. Note that Arthur Shurtleff is at work on redesign, particularly for a more prominent civic center and park.

Snow, Walter B. "City Planning for Industrial Development in Fall River." The American City, April 1916, pp. 335-37. [HCL]

Article on the planned improvement of the Quequechan River to reclaim usable land and enhance industrial development.

Van Rensselaer, M[arianna] G. "Frederick Law Olmsted." Century, October 1893, pp. 860-67. [BPL, HCL]

A paean to Olmsted by one of his greatest admirers and literary associates.

[Vaux, C. Bowyer]. "Calvert Vaux, Designer of Parks." Park International 1 (September 1920): 138-43. [FLL]

Eulogy by his son, fearful that Vaux's name and works were "in danger of becoming lost in the oblivion of the inadequate record..." (p. 139).

Windmuller, Louis. "A Plea for Trees and Parks in Cities." The Forum, May 1900, pp. 337-46. [HCL]

Discussion of the need for park space throughout cities, especially in New York City, with its crowded tenement districts with comparison to other cities (Boston, etc.). Pleads for trees as "agents of sanitation" for shade and space in city area.

C. Unpublished Material

American History Workshop. "The Fall River Sourcebook: A Documentary History of Fall River, Mass."
American History Workshop, 1981. [FRPL]

Historical documentation from widespread sources prepared for the Heritage State Park, Fall River. Useful for range of topics, though none concern the park.

Borden, Philip D., Jr. "Scrapbook." (Typewritten). [FRHS]

Collection of miscellaneous excerpts, assembled by the former City Engineer, from various records and documents. Emphasis on local lore such as sources of street names, including those around South Park.

Fall River Development and Industrial Commission. "A Survey of the Fall River Shoreline." 1979. [FRPL]

Study of shoreline funded by Office of Coastal Zone Management, to identify land parcels and their special problems. Plats H-20, G-1, I-1 cover the shoreline from Sanchez Marine Co. through park land to King Philip Boat Club and R.R. yards.

Levee, Arleyn A. "John Charles Olmsted: His Early and Middle Years." (Typewritten manuscript). March 1982.

An exploration, based on correspondence and other mostly prime source material, of the formative influences and experiences of this important American landscape designer.

[Lintner], Sylvia Chace. "The Impact of the Civil War on the Schools and Public Amusements of Fall River, Mass." Paper prepared for History 163a, Radcliffe College, 1934. (Typewritten). [FRPL]

Study of the changing view toward education and recreation in a rapidly growing city. Records the increase in numbers and variety of public entertainments, pre- to post-Civil War (1858, 1865, 1869, 1872) through a survey of newspapers. Parks noted as the site for events, particularly sports, but not described.

Lintner, Sylvia [Chace]. "A Social History of Fall River 1859-1879." Ph.D. diss. Radcliffe College, 1945. [HCL]

Expanded analysis of the work above to include economic, cultural and social influences in the development of Fall River as an industrialized city. Study of the living conditions and social patterns of the worker and owner groups and the municipal response to need for services. Notes the early work done on the park by Olmsted and Vaux as example of providing for public amusements in order to keep the operatives content.

[Lothrop, Howard]. "Scrapbook." [private collection]

Collection of newspaper clippings, from 1925 to 1933, concerning Fall River park matters, assembled by Lothrop, who was Park Superintendent from 1903 to 1946.

McCrosky, T.T. "Provisional Plans for Streets and Highways and Future Land Use and Recommended Alignment for the Relocation of Route 6, F.A.I. Route 95." New York: T.T. McCrosky, October 1958. [FRPL, FLL]

Recommendations for future land use and transportation patterns, including new neighborhood parks. Of significance for Kennedy Park is a proposed regional express highway cutting through meadow area of Middle Section of park.

Massachusetts Historical Commission. "Historic Resources of Fall River." 1984. (Typewritten). [FRPL]

Bound Nomination Forms for the National Register of Historic Places for sites throughout Fall River, including Kennedy (South) Park. Good for comprehensive view of contextural relationships of city's historic spaces.

C. Unpublished Material (Cont'd.)

Silvia, Philip T. "The Spindle City: Labor, Politics and Religion in Fall River, Massachusetts 1870-1905."
Ph.D. dissertation, Fordham University, 1973.
[FRPL]

Thorough, well-written analysis of the complex issues in Fall River's labor problems. Vivid portrait of the operatives' struggles. Scant treatment of the workingman's recreation, though the park is mentioned as the setting for labor rallies.

"Student Planning Project, Fall River-New Bedford Area."
Prepared for Planning 2-22, Professor Charles W. Eliot, Harvard University Graduate School of Design, 1957-58. (Typewritten). [FLL]

Study evaluating metropolitan functions in this area, among them open space and residential patterns. Recommendations include the need to renew residential areas and develop a system of local parks and greenways.

KENNEDY/SOUTH PARK, FALL RIVER, MASS.

A. Published

Fall River Auditing Committee. Report of the Auditing Committee of the Town of Fall River. 1842-1854. [FRPL]

These reports cover the period before Fall River became a city; bound together under City Reports. Records prior to 1842 were lost in a city fire. Informative as to the early park movement.

Fall River Auditor. Report of the Receipts and Expenditures of the City of Fall River. 1929-1984. [FRPL]

Record of the expenses of the Parks and Recreation Departments for maintenance, equipment, salaries etc.

Fall River Board of Aldermen. Records of the Board of Aldermen. 1890-1928. [FRPL]

Published minutes of the meetings of the Board of Aldermen. (See Municipal Documents - Unpublished for earlier records.) Good source for information concerning the development of the South Park site, the park system and surrounding neighborhood.

Fall River Board of Park Commissioners. Annual Report of the Board of Park Commissioners. 1902-1932. [GSD, FRPL]

Title of Board varies, including Commissioners of Parks, Cemeteries and Recreation. Reports separately published; also included in the City

A. Published (Cont'd.)

Documents 1902 to 1927. From 1928, 1930-32 typewritten reports only; bound together. Reports 1933-35 typewritten drafts in Parks Dept. office; after 1935 only Auditor's Reports including Park Dept. information. Invaluable record in earlier volumes of development of the Park; later volumes information sparse. First Report, 1902, includes the "Landscape Architects' Report." Subsequent volumes include, inter alia, "Report of the Superintendent of Parks," "Report of the General Supervisor of Playgrounds," "Report of the Supervisor of Girls," "Report of the Superintendent of Oak Grove Cemetery," in addition to financial statements.

Fall River, Mass. City Directory. 1853-1930 [FRPL]

Useful, particularly in early years, to indicate development of park neighborhood, streets, and to list residents and their occupations.

Fall River, Mass. City Documents. 1855-1932. [FRPL, BPL]

Documents 1855-74 bound together under City Reports. Documents 1928-32 are bound typescripts. Early documents include mayor's inaugural address and budgetary information. Later volumes expanded to include, inter alia, Reports of the Board of Park Commissioners, the City Engineer and the Auditor. Useful record of changing attitude toward park development among other city priorities.

B. Unpublished

Fall River Board of Aldermen. "Records of the Board of Aldermen." 1867-1889. [Archives of the City Clerk.]

Handwritten minutes of the meetings, recording petitions to the Board, motions from the City Council and decisions by the Aldermen. Good source for information concerning park land acquisition and early development, as well as the extension of city services (streets, water, lights, sewers) to the area.

B. Unpublished (Cont'd.)

Fall River Board of Park Commissioners. "Minutes of the Meetings of the Board of Park Commissioners." 1931-present. [F.R. Parks Dept.]

Record of the proceedings of the meetings of Park Commissioners; useful to document requests for use and granting of permits, community concerns, maintenance problems and solutions implemented, and various renovation projects initiated.

Fall River Board of Reservoir Commissioners. "Minutes of the Reservoir Commission." 1895-1906. [F.R. Water Dept.]

Since the Reservoir Commission was responsible for bringing the Olmsted firm back into the city in 1895, these minutes are informative as to the thinking of municipal officials and public-spirited citizens regarding open space planning in the early years.

Fall River Department of Parks, Recreation and Cemeteries. "Memorials Within the Fall River Parks Department." (typewritten list) [F.R. Parks Dept.]

This listing of the memorials gives scant background information as to dates of installation, description of memorial, sculptor, sponsoring organization, etc.

Fall River Department of Public Works, Engineering Division. "Survey Books" Nos. 70, 163, 182, 316, 358, 373, 418. [F.R. Engineering Office]

These books document when and where surveys were done in and around the park prior to renovations and changes.

Fall River Water Department. "Water Works Service Pipes Books." 1868-1976. [F.R. Water Dept.]

These books document the installation of water pipes in and around the park, thereby indicating when various facilities were installed.

Fall River Weekly News. 1845-1905. [FRPL, HCL]

Fall River Weekly Recorder. 1832-1834. [FRPL]

These newspapers, used variably either by scanning complete years during the early periods of park thought and park construction, or by looking for date-specific items, are a valuable resource. They provide information available in no other source, particularly for the Olmsted-Vaux period of design and construction. In the later years, they record in word and picture both happy events in the park history and controversies of administration or use.

In addition to the newspaper holdings on microfilm or in volumes in various repositories, collections of clippings on park-related topics were used, located in the photograph and clipping archives of the Fall River Herald News, in the Fall River Public Library and the private collection of clippings assembled by Howard Lothrop covering some events and controversies from 1925-1933. These clippings were not always identified as to date or newspaper source. This is particularly true of the Lothrop collection, where the articles came from several sources. It is possible that in many cases the handwritten notations were incorrect, even as to name of newspaper. Wherever practical, they have been located. However, there are several entries which could not be readily found. They have been left in the list because they contained useful information concerning the park.

E. ARTICLES FOUND IN THE FALL RIVER DAILY HERALD, THE FALL RIVER EVENING HERALD AND THE FALL RIVER HERALD

The Fall River Herald originated as the Border City Herald (1872-75), changing its name to the Fall River Daily Herald sometime between 1876 and 1877. There is some confusion over the exact title of the newspaper, sometimes listed simply as The Fall River Herald. Sometime around 1904 an Evening Herald edition emerged. In 1929 these papers merged with The Fall River Daily News to form The Fall River Herald-News.

to excellent quality; good record of development of the city and its style. Condition of collection --good but should be conserved or microfilmed.

b. Miscellaneous photographs of:

1. President Taft in South Park at 1911 Cotton Centennial (3 photos).
2. Early flight of Curtis biplane from bluff at beach, South Park, June 24, 1911 (5 photos).
3. Park structures, 1934 (6 photos).
4. Scenes within South Park -- copies of photographs from Annual Reports of the Park Commissioners.

c. Aerial photograph

Shows -- top third of park with surrounding neighborhood.

3. Fall River Office of Community Development
Fall River, Mass.

Aerial photographs of the City of Fall River, taken March 29, 1978

#3-6A - Upper Section and Middle Section to shelter

#2-6 - Middle and Shore Sections

These aerials, taken months before the destruction of the shelter roof, document the significant loss of vegetation (especially understory). They also show the dump sites along the shore property.

4. Fall River Herald News Photograph Archives
Fall River, Mass.

Collection of photographs, filed under both "South Park" and "Kennedy Park," many of which are prints used to accompany articles, from 1938 to 1982. Many photos show condition of park plans and photographs of the planner who worked for the Planning Board of Fall River in 1922 and after the disastrous fire of 1928.

B. Publications

Artwork of Fall River, Massachusetts. [No location given.] W.H. Parish Publishing Co., 1897. [FRHS, FRPL]

Five excellent photographs recording park condition at the time from surrounding streets and waterfront.

Boss, Judith A. Fall River: A Pictorial History. Norfolk,
Va.: Donning Company, 1982. [FRHS, FRPL]

Three photogrpahs of Kennedy Park, both early and contemporary (and an early shot of North Park as pasture land).

B. Publications (Cont'd.)

Fall River and Its Points of Interest. New York:
Mercantile Illustrating Company, 1896. [FRPL]

Photographs of neighborhood surrounding park.

Fall River Illustrated. [Fall River:] H.R. Page & Co.,
1891. [FRHS, FRPL]

One photograph of Upper Section of South Park. Good city views, including areas to be developed as the other parks by Olmsted Bros. at later date.

Fall River, Massachusetts. Providence: Dart & Bigelow,
1901. [FRPL, SHL]

Mislabeled photograph of "Middle Park, South Street" which is actually Middle Street Parkway of South Park. Photograph probably earlier than 1901.
Good views of city and rural areas of historic interest.

Fall River Board of Park Commissioners. Annual Report of the Board of Park Commissioners. 1905-06, 1908-
14, 1917. [FLL, FRPL]

Excellent photographs in these volumes of South Park as well as Ruggles, North and Maplewood Parks, Durfee and Cambridge Greens, and Eastern Parkway. These photographs record the developing plantings, new structures and increased activities within the park.
Unfortunately there are no photographs showing the incomplete construction areas still undeveloped, about which the Park Superintendent complains in his Reports.

Fall River View Book: City of Spindles. Fall River:
E.P. Charlton & Co., 1906. [FRPL]

Contains five photographs of South Park, St. Anne's Church and Ruggles Park.

Fenner, Henry M. History of Fall River. New York:
F.T. Smiley Publishing Company, 1906. [BPL, FRPL,

Ruggles and North) to accompany discussion of park development.

Illustrated Fall River. Fall River: Hunter & Wells.
[no date.] [FRPL, SPNEA]

Good photograph of South Park to the Bay, showing the undeveloped middle section of the park. Other views from North Park.

Official Program of the Unveiling of the Lafayette Monument, September 4, 1916. Fall River: The Calumet Club and its Friends, 1916. [AA, FRPL]

Six excellent photographs of South Park, recording the full growth of its shrub borders and trees. Other photographs show the conditions of the other parks, Ruggles, North and Durfee Green, and give portraits of the Park Commissioners and Superintendent.

Souvenir Folder of Fall River, Mass. Chicago: Curt Teich & Co., 1923. [SHL]

Two views of South Park, one of North, indicating the ponds and full vegetation.

Souvenir of Fall River. Fall River: George E. Bamford.
[18(?).] [HCL]

Photographs of architecture throughout Fall River. This volume, from the Parker Collection of Park Reports at Widener, contained, in an attached envelope, a negative of the boulder and fence along Bradford Ave., probably late 1880's.

Planting lists, filed under Olmsted Job No. 1605.
These lists are the handwritten order lists or typed versions of the planting lists which appear on Plans
No. 26 and No. 73 (See Appendix 2a and 2b, Kennedy/South Park: History of a Public Landscape in Fall River, Mass.)

1. September 11, 1902

"List of Plants for Fall of 1902"

"South Park (Playground)"

Handwritten list (3 pages) on Olmsted Brothers
Planting Order form, giving:

- a) Code number for individual plants or plant groupings as keyed into planting plan No. 26, September 18, 1902. List covers numbers 1 to 23.
- b) Scientific and popular names;
- c) Spacing;
- d) Quantity;
- e) Size;
- f) Source (unfortunately the nurseries, etc., are abbreviated and therefore difficult to translate);
- g) Price;
- h) Numerical breakdown of quantities of plants in some of the various groupings.

A. The Frederick Law Olmsted National Historic Site (Cont'd.)

2. April 3, 1903

"South Park Playground, Spring 1903"

Handwritten list (2 pages) on Olmsted Brothers Planting Order form giving same information 'a' through 'h' above. This list covers the plant groupings Nos. 11, 13-15, 17, 19, 21-23 from Planting Plan No. 26, making some changes in numbers of planting beds and quantities of plants. In most cases, the later planting list reduces the amount of plant material to be used.

3. June 29, 1903

Planting Study

Handwritten list (13 pages) on Olmsted Brothers Planting Order form giving the information 'a' through 'h' as above. This study is keyed to Planting Plan No. 73 for Middle and Shore Sections (August 28, 1903), although there are several changes to be noted.

- a) The number of planting beds listed in groupings Nos. 24, 27, 29, 32, 47, 61 and 65 were increased in the August version of the list.
- b) The June planting study is more extensive than that on the August plan, adding individual plants or groupings in numbers 69 through 119. (Numbers 96-97, 101-103, 105-106, 110, 115-118 are groups in planting beds). Some of this extended list may have applied to the plantings recommended for the lower part of the Shore Section which appears in the plan in vague outlines with no numbers attached.

Of particular interest in this extended list is the inclusion of evergreen shrub materials, such as taxus canadensis, andromeda floribunda, ilex glabra, juniperus chinensis prostrata, among the deciduous shrub materials suggested in the rest of the list. Moreover, decorative perennial and sub-shrub materials are also included in this extended list, suggesting that a garden bed was planned. Such a bed was eventually created by the Women's Comfort Station by Superintendent Lothrop.

4. August 27, 1903

Planting List for South Park typewritten list (9 pages) which duplicates the list as it appears on Planting Plan No. 73.

B. Annual Report of the Board of Park Commissioners, Fall River, Mass., 1904-6, 1908-13. [FLL, FRPL]

The Park Reports for these dates contain lists of trees, shrubs and some perennial material planted within these years in South Park. (See Appendix 2c, Kennedy/South Park: History of a Public Landscape in Fall River, Mass.). The Reports also include plant materials placed in the other Fall River parks.

These lists record plant species, size, cost and nursery sources for the material. Many of the entries are listed as coming from the Fall River Parks Department Nursery, located in the lower section of South Park. These materials were often purchased at very small sizes or transplanted from other public properties, such as the Reservoir grounds or the Cemetery, and grown in the South Park nursery to larger, more useable sizes.

CORRESPONDENCE
KENNEDY/SOUTH PARK, FALL RIVER, MASS.
(Olmsted Job No. 1605)

Correspondence collections, which include various records and materials in addition to letters are located at:

A. Library of Congress, Manuscript Division, Washington, D.C.

1. Microfilm of the Papers of Frederick Law Olmsted.
[Also at FLL.]

a. General correspondence. Reels 9-16 were checked, covering 1866 through 1878. Correspondence relating to the Fall River project was found as follows:

- 1) 1868 [no further date] to "My dear Olmsted" from "C.V." [Calvert Vaux], [Reel 11, Frames 189-191]. Although this letter does not specifically relate to the Fall River Park, it indicates that Vaux was in Fall River in this year, after taking the Fall River Line steamboat.
- 2) April 20, 1871, To "Mssrs. Olmsted Vaux & Co." from "C.E. Lindsey, Chrmn. Comm. on Parks" (Reel 12, Frames 220-22).
- 3) February 17, 1872, to "Mssrs. Olmsted Vaux & Co." from "C.E. Lindsey, Chrm. Comm." (Reel 12, Frames 490-91).
- 4) December 21, 1872, to "F.L. Holmsted [sic], Esq." from Geo. Troup" (Reel 13, Frames 56-57).

Correspondence (Cont'd.)

b. Subject file.

- 1) Fall River Report: June 16, 1870, "To the Committee on Park Improvement, Fall River, Mass." from "O.V. & Co." (Reel 29, Frames 398-401).

2. Records of the Olmsted Associates

a. Series A - Letterbooks.

- 1) May 26, 1890, to "Arthur B. Brayton, Clerk, Committee on Parks, Fall River, Mass." from "F.L. Olmsted & Co." (Letterbook 8, p. 621). See item 1, Series C, page 69 below.
- 2) May 26, 1890 to "Mr. Vaux" from "J.C. Olmsted" (Letterbook 8, p. 622). See item 2, Series C, page 69 below.
- 3) November 1, 1895, to "Philip D. Borden Jr." from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 43, page 577). This letter and the several following relate to work regarding land-taking and park planning around the Watuppa Reservoir for the Fall River Reservoir Commission. However, this project eventually led to consultation by the firm for the Committee on Parks (later the Park Commission) regarding South Park and the other parklands within the city.
- 4) November 30, 1895, to "Philip D. Borden, Jr." from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 43, page 838).
- 5) December 12, 1895, to "P.D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 43, page 935).
- 6) December 23, 1895, to "Philip D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 44, page 15).
- 7) December 26, 1895, to "Philip D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 44, page 36).

Correspondence (Cont'd.)

- 8) January 15, 1896, to "Philip D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 44, page 223).
- 9) January 20, 1896, to "Philip D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 44, pages 279-80).
- 10) April 3, 1896, to "P.H. [sic] Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 45, page 911).
- 11) April 3, 1896, to "Mayor William E. Greene" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 45, pages 909-10).
- 12) May 29, 1896, to "P.D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 46, page 376).
- 13) June 10, 1896, to "P.D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 46, pages 439-40).
- 14) July 6, 1896, to "P.D. Borden Jr." from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 47, page 604).
- 15) [no date given--probably July 17, 1896] to "Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 47, page 674).
- 16) July 28, 1896, to "P.D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 47, pages 758-59).
- 17) August 18, 1896, to "Philip D. Borden, Jr." from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 47, pages 900-901).
- 18) September 25, 1896, to "Philip D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 48, pages 201-202).
- 19) [no date given--probably October 2, 1896] to "P.D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 48, page 242).
- 20) November 17, 1896, to "Spencer Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 48, page 573).

Correspondence (Cont'd.)

- 21) [no date given--probably January 1, 1897] to "P.D. Borden" from "Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot" (Letterbook 49, page 965).

b. Series B - Correspondence, etc.

Although the job number for South Park is No. 1605, documentary material concerning this park is located under several other job numbers which relate to the Fall River parks, Nos. 1600-1604, with most of the material filed under No. 1600, the general Fall River parks category. Since the firm was conducting its work simultaneously on three major parks (South, North and Ruggles), two greens (Durfee and Grinnell, later Cambridge), most of the correspondence, reports of visits, etc. would refer to several projects together. These Series B files contain mixed material pertaining to South Park from 1902-1914, which are too numerous to list separately. They are as follows:

- 301 Letters
- 59 Reports
- 18 Memoranda
- 2 Bills
- 2 Specifications
- 1 Estimate
- 1 Miscellaneous Item

c. Series C - Miscellaneous Correspondence

The two letters listed are the in-coming correspondence to which items 1 and 2 under Series A, Letterbooks are the answers (see page 67 above).

- 1) May 16, 1890 to "Messrs. Olmsted, Vaux & Co., New York, N.Y." from "Arthur B. Brayton, Asst. City Clerk and Clerk of Committees" (Box C-1, "B" file).
- 2) May 23, 1890 to "Olmsted" from "Calvert Vaux" (Box C-2, "V" file).

Correspondence (Cont'd.)

d. Series E - Reports of Visits

These reports bound in Series E stop in 1899. After that time, the reports are included within the B files - correspondence, etc.

- 1) November 7, 1895, Report of Visit of Charles Eliot to North Watuppa Lake, Fall River (Book E-5, page).
- 2) December 28, 1895, Report of call from P.D. Borden to John C. Olmsted (Book E-6, page 8).
- 3) June 4, 1896, Report of Visit by John C. Olmsted to Watuppa Reservoir, Fall River (Book E-6, page 205).
- 4) June 4, 1896, Report of Visit by John C. Olmsted to Borden's office and Watuppa Reservoir, Fall River (Book E-6, page 230). There seems to be an overlap between this visit and the one above, although these are listed as two separate entries.
- 5) July 9, 1896, Report of Visit of John C. Olmsted to Watuppa Reservoir, Fall River (Book E-6, pages 185-87).

B. Department of Parks, Recreation and Cemeteries, Fall River, Mass.

The Parks Department office contains miscellaneous materials pertaining to South Park and the other parks from 1902-1904. These documents are as follows:

- 57 Letters
- 3 Specifications
- 2 Estimates

C. Fall River Historical Society, Fall River, Mass.

Miscellaneous materials pertaining to South Park and the other parklands, from 1902-1904 are located at the Historical Society. Many of these items are duplicates of those in the Parks Department collection. These contain approximately:

55 Letters
1 Specification
1 Estimate
1 Plan Fragment
